

TEN THOUSAND FOR A STOLEN KISS

Inez Lawson.

Ten thousand dollars for a kiss!

The girl who received such balm for a stolen smack is Inez Lawson, a solo trumpapist of renown in vaudeville. She not only has the documents to prove that a $10,000 buss was stamped on her ruby lips, but a tiny scar left by the fortune kiss is pointed to by the fair vaudevillist in substantiation of her story.

How that $10,000 kiss was stolen is a simple recital. Miss Lawson was appearing in the Fifth Avenue theater in New York, where she was billed as the daintiest instrumentalist in vaudeville." A taxicab party was arranged after the show and forthwith Miss Lawson, two girl companions and three merry
